

TEN
The best restaurant
recipe kits

If you've been missing your favourite restaurants during lockdown, you'll be pleased to hear that some have made it relatively straightforward to replicate their signature dishes at home – here is a selection of our favourites.

Please note information is correct at the time of publication and is subject to change.

Margheritas from Pizza Geeks

Delivering across Edinburgh

The Haymarket pizzeria has started sending its DIY pizza kits across the Scottish capital and they're proving to be a big hit. You will receive everything you need to make four margherita pizzas and, for every order you make, Pizza Geeks will donate a pizza to a vulnerable person.

Order

Fondue from The Cheese Bar

Delivering across the UK

Cast yourself to the Alps with this "fondue-it-yourself" kit, which comes with everything you need to create an oozing cheese dinner. If you don't have a fondue stand already, you can include one in your order for an extra £20.

Order

Small plates from Merienda

Delivering across Edinburgh

Before lockdown, this newly opened Stockbridge restaurant was becoming one of the most in-demand reservations in Edinburgh. They have recently adapted their menu for home delivery and you can enjoy hearty dishes like barbecue pork belly, roasted sea trout and slow-braised beef stew. There's also a brilliant selection of cheese and great value wine, Champagne and beer.

Order

A three-course feast from Ondine at Home

Delivering across Edinburgh

The Ondine at Home weekly menu consists of a three-course dinner that comes with easy-to-follow instruction and requires minimum effort to serve. Pre-orders are taken by phone on Monday and Tuesday between 12pm and 5pm, with local delivery or collection available on Friday and Saturday. There are limited meals available each day, so we suggest calling or emailing early.

Order

Burger kits from Mac & Wild

Delivering across the UK

Whether it's the popular Venimoo or the Dirty Brunch Burger kit, these stand as some of the best patties you can get delivered right now. The box includes meat, brioche buns, cheese, relish and pickles, and there's enough for four burgers.

Order

Paella from Arros QD

Delivering across the UK

Michelin-starred chef Quique Dacosta's team at Arros QD are behind one of the more ingenious delivery ideas with their seafood paella kit. At £76 excluding seafood, it's not cheap but it does include everything you need to get you started, including a 40cm paella pan, a paella spoon, 1kg of high-quality Bomba rice and the all-important (and usually time consuming) seafood stock.

Order

Perfect discs of dough from Pizza Pilgrims

Delivering across the UK

One of our members' favourite pizza places is now providing the ingredients to make your own. For just £15, you will receive enough ingredients to make two pizzas. This includes the 48-hour proved dough, marinara sauce, fresh fior di latte, virgin olive oil, fresh basil and parmesan. Delivery slots are currently in high demand, so check the website for the latest information. They are currently allowing just one kit per order.

Order

Recipes are by nature derivative and meant to be shared - that is how they improve, are changed, how new ideas are formed.

Molly Wizenberg

Aizle & Noto at Home

Deliveries are made to central Edinburgh between 2pm and 5pm on Friday and Saturday.

This upmarket bistro on the south side offers home delivery. The four-course option costs £70 for two, with highlights from their most recent menu including Inverurie lamb and pommes Anna. Instructions are enclosed on how to finish cooking the dishes at home. The menu can be adapted for vegetarians.

Order

Classic Italian from Pasta Evangelists

Delivering across the UK

Pasta Evangelists deliver fresh, restaurant-quality pasta boxes across the UK, meaning you can create delicious, authentic and healthy Italian food at home. You can also send pasta care kits to friends and family with three meals included, with a £5 donation to Age Concern.

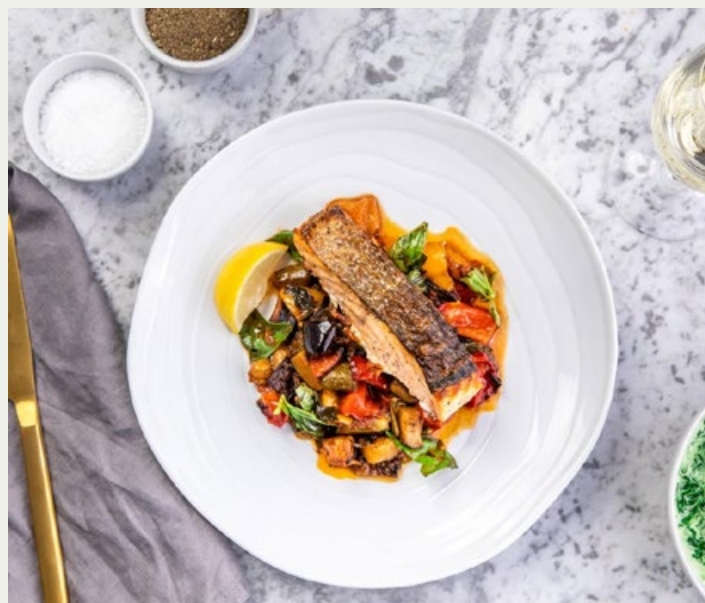

Order

Salt beef bagels from Monty's Deli

Delivering across the UK, Tuesday to Friday

Declared by Tom Kerridge to be “the best value lunch in London”, Monty's Deli is one of the only places in Britain to make their own salt beef and pastrami. Choose either and you'll get it vacuum-packed along with a pack of six part-baked bagels.

Order

Côte at Home

Delivering across the UK

Whether it's a rich beef bourguignon, an indulgent seafood parmentier or a summery pea, mint and courgette soup, the French-themed bistro group is delivering oven-ready meals to your door. You can also stock up on meat, wine and Champagne.

Order